CAT CAN AND CAT CAN'T; WHAT CAT CAN'T CAN'T?

Anyway, Hoo-Hoo Association
Is Holding Meeting Here;
Look Out Mr. Mouse!

How far can a cat spit?
Why can't cats lay eggs?
These are two of the weighty questions under consideration this afternoon in Glendale by lumber
dealers from all over southern California
attending the quarterly concatenation of the Hoo-Hoo association.

The affair is being attended by about 150 boulevard and alley "cats"
of all sizes, colors, and shapes
and with various records of dissipation.
Most of them are veterans with reputations as seasoned mousers. Others are "flippers" with perfumed belladonnaed eyes, manicured and pedicured paws and curled tails. A few are flabby cats with double chins. All of them have neatly trimmed whiskers and sharpened claws.

These Hear Cat Call

Among the domestic "cats" are George Bentley, Ray Bentley, Roger Bentley, Al Sullivan, George Peddicord and W. R. Letton of the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company,
460 West Los Feliz Road, and Frank L. Fox and John W. Stauffacher of the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company, 714 East California avenue.
The cat call also was answered by a number of dead cats—those who have not paid all of their dues in the "kittens" order of Hoo-Hoo.

Various contests are in progress
this afternoon in the Verdugo Woodlands including caterwauling, fence
walking and gopher hunting. There will also be a few milk lapping races
for the aged.

And Fur Will Fly

About 5 o'clock the cats will sharpen their claws upon the nearest rock, pussy-foot up to the barbecue
and pounce upon the bull. Immediately they will begin to purr with all eight cylinders.

Fifty "kittens" will be stroked the wrong way tonight in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. They are scheduled to lose at least eight lives.
After the fur has ceased to fly and their backs have been scratched to the proper longitude, they will be ordained as gray haired tomcats. The affair from thenceforth will be known as a "tomcatenation."

Mrs. Chase Hostess at Old-Fashioned Party

Chapter BA, of P. E. O., held a meeting at the home of Mrs. A. S.
Chase, 400 Riverdale Drive, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was the annual guest day and each member brought a guest.

The entire party was dressed in old-fashioned clothes. Dresses which date back 100 years or more, in style, were numerous among the assemblage.

The program included a piano
solo by Miss Bailey, former of Minneapolis. Miss Ripley sang a song which she used to sing twenty years ago. Mrs. Eleanor Toll gave a paper on history of dress and Mrs. Edith Arnold, sang some old-fashioned songs.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake
and coffee were served. The house was decorated with beautiful flowers. Each person brought an old-fashioned picture and a guessing contest was held as to the identity of the pictures. Mrs. Eva Cunningham won the prize for the guessing. The only out of town guest at the party was Mrs. Ollie P. Cramer of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Schenck Now in Capital City

Their many friends in Glendale
will be pleased to know that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schenck, who recently moved from their home at 1143 East Elk avenue, are very comfortably settled at 2701 Donner Way, Sacramento, and business conditions look very encouraging to Mr. Schenck.
Their little daughter, June, is recovering from a severe attack of chicken-pox which she contracted on the trip north.

One thing they mention is the fact that while in Glendale they kept their handsome Studebaker car in an unlocked garage more than a year
without being molested, at the end of two weeks in the northern city, they suffered the loss of an expensive new tire and rim, through the activity of a thief who picked a lock. They have moved into a different locality in order to feel safe.

Mrs. D. Cunningham to Entertain Visitors

Mrs. D. W. Cunningham 725
Glenwood Road, will entertain
a few friends at her home here over the week-end. Miss Meta Cairinger
and her sister, Miss Tessie Cairinger, of West Fifty-third street, Los Angeles, will arrive tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hamilton of Marion, Indiana; now stopping in Los Angeles,
will also spend the week-end with Mrs. Cunningham. Mrs. Emily
Lawrence of Los Angeles will arrive Sunday.

Proclamation

To the People of Glendale:
Whereas, Next week has been suggested as "Clean-Up Week"
by the civics committee of the Chamber of Commerce and endorsed by the city council, it gives me pleasure to bring this movement to the attention of residents of Glendale.

This community is known for its cleanliness, and that fact brings many hundreds of families here annually. Designating one special week as "Clean-Up Week" does not mean that the city is particularly dirty. It merely means that a co-operative effort should be made during this period to make it still cleaner.

Civic pride demands that every property owner should make a careful examination of his premises immediately to ascertain if its appearance can be improved by fulfilling the intention of this campaign. A little paint and work with rake
and hoe will do a lot of good.
It will improve both the value
and appearance of residential
and business property.

Arrangements have been made for the city to make a number of extra collections of rubbish in the residential districts. The civics committee of the Chamber of Commerce is directing the week and will, no doubt, announce plans for the community event.

Cleanliness is next to Godliness and I am sure that Glendale will not neglect "Clean-Up Week."

SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor, City of Glendale.

LOWERING OF P. E. TRACKS ON BRAND AGAIN URGED

Another Conference Held With Railway Officials, but No Definite Action Taken

Definite decision in regard to the lowering of the Brand boulevard
tracks to grade level was not reached yesterday at a special conference held in the city hall by city, civic and Pacific Electric representatives.
The Pacific Electric was represented by D. W. Pontius, general manager, O. A. Smith, general passenger agent, E. C. Johnson, director of the engineering department, and Frank Karr, attorney and vice president, and Ed Sharpe of the passenger department.

The city administration was represented by Mayor Spencer Robinson,
City Manager W. H. Reeves, Council-
man C. E. Kimlin and Councilman
S. A. Davis.

Object to Expense

V. M. Hollister, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and its secretary, James B. Rhodes, outlined the imperative necessity for immediate action on the proposition.

Officials of the railroad demurred
at expressing any definite opinion,
but intimated that the expense,
which would be close to $100,000, is
their big objection to the proposal.
Nothing else was discussed, according to those present.

Keith Tatlow Loses Finger on Left Hand

Keith Tatlow of 311 Oak street,
who is in the employ of Mr. Dodson,
the Petrowood drainboard contractor
of Glendale, while en route to work in north Glendale, finding that the throttle of his motorcycle would not act automatically, reached down with his left hand to adjust the trouble,
resulting in the loss of his forefinger,
the fracturing of another finger, the severing of tendons of two other fingers, as well as a badly lacerated hand.

Becoming unconscious, he was taken to the nearest hospital, the Cottage hospital of Burbank, where his needs were attended to. Keith hopes to be home in a few days and
"enjoy" a vacation of a few months.

Miss Winifred Rouzee to Lecture at Club

give the program at the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club at Masonic Temple the afternoon of April 25, has been engaged for years in the east in educational work and is now devoting her time exclusively to lecturing on Biblical subjects. She has a regular department in the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena, Highland Park Ebell, Los Angeles Ebell
and Hollywood Women's Club. Miss Rouzee will lecture on "The Bible and World Events, Past, Present and Future."

est city in America has been suggested by the civics committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and operation in this movement.

waste matter to be collected shall be placed at the curb line of the streets
or along the property line of the alleys.

of the Chamber of Commerce are Dr.
Jessie Russell, L. H. Wilson, William
S. Rattray, Charles L. Peckham, T.
D. Watson, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward
and Frank A. Parish.

Hi-Y Team to Visit Junior Republic School

The Glendale Hi-Y deputation team will go to the California Junior Republic school for boys at Chino tomorrow morning to conduct the religious services there. This is one of the service tasks that the Hi-Y club has been performing throughout the past winter months. The team consists of Dale Wood, George Jordan, Maynard Toll, Dick Fisher, Eldon
Benge and Herbert Bruck. Rex C.
Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, will also accompany them.

The members of the team have spoken at a number of local and nearby churches. The club feels quite honored to receive the invitation from the California Junior Republic, and will be the guests of the school for the day. After taking dinner with the boys there the club
will be shown over the large institution. The California Junior Republic is made up of boys of high school age, who have their own self-government and do all of the labor in connection with running the large farm.

Go Slow! Speed Cop Is Waiting for You

Now that Los Angeles' chief of police no longer is a Glendale resident, watch your step while speeding
into the city over Glendale boulevard.

That is the advice of Dr. E. L.
Eames of 633 1/2 North Orange street,
who telephoned The Glendale Evening News this morning that two motorcops were policing the thoroughfare.

It is the first in months that a motor officer has been noted on the streets leading to Glendale, but after the hapless driver hit this town—

Well, it is a sad story to relate,
but with the city facing a deficit the high cost of speeding has gone higher.

Mrs. Frank George Is Hostess Behalf Club

Mrs. Frank George of 341 West
California avenue was hostess on Wednesday at luncheon and cards to the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club. Decorations of pink Cherokee roses were used throughout the house. The regular club members present were Mrs.
George Robinson, Mrs. Charles Carroll, Mrs. Robert Peace, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Wallace Walker, Mrs. E.
E. East and Mrs. George Grace. The guests were Mrs. Bess Snyder and Mrs. F. J. Rogers. Club prize was awarded to Mrs. Robinson and guest prize to Mrs. Rogers.

School Spanish Club Holds Business Meet

The Spanish Club at the High school, "La Tertulia," had a business meeting on Thursday, which was followed by a unique program.
The program consisted of a Spanish play given by Miss Field's class, a Spanish dance by one of the members, and the reading of Spanish poems. After the program was completed, the members enjoyed several Spanish games. Willard Goertz is president of the club.

INVISIBLE RULERS REAL MENACE TO L. A., ASSERTED

Col. James W. Everington, In
Talk to Legion, Tells of Police Conditions

"The invisible government of Los Angeles is a real menace and nobody is responsible but the people themselves."

This statement was one made by
Col. James W. Everington of this city, until yesterday chief of police of Los Angeles, in his address last night at the regular meeting of the Glendale Post of the American Legion, of which he is a member. Upon the request of Commander James F.
McBryde, he cited a few matters of interest which he encountered during his rather brief term of office.

He explained that he called the people names "to wake 'em up," but to no avail. Of the thousands of verbal and written messages of congratulation and commendation which he had received within the past few weeks, Col. Everington stated that not one citizen of Los Angeles had come to his aid in his single-handed fight against vice.

Changed Mind Three Times
"In speaking of Mayor 'Cryer,' it might be stated that he changed his mind three times on Thursday.
The colonel completed his remarks
by stating that "if an honest, grand jury investigation is conducted into the present government of Los Angeles they'll certainly find something."

Following Col. Everington's
speech, Dr. W. C. Mabry, also a member of the Post and a well-known civic worker, gave a short talk on the
"Let George Do It" form of government under which he stated Los Angeles and every other city of any size
in the country is controlled.
"We never have had a government of the majority of the people,
but one of an organized minority."

Acacia School P.-T. A. Plans Patriotic Meet

The regular meeting of the Acacia street Mothers' club, Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. William Alexander is president, was held at the school yesterday afternoon. Preceding the business session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served. The flag salute was led by Mrs. H. C. Levey, patriotic chairman. Announcement was made of the district convention to be held in Los Angeles next week.

At yesterday's meeting it was decided that the regular May meeting
would be postponed from May 19
to May 26 so that it would come near Memorial Day, and at that time
a patriotic program will be given,
to be in charge of Mrs. Levey. Mrs.
O. W. Esselman, parliamentarian, gave a twenty-minute drill in parliamentary work. Mrs. Townsend Clark, chairman of child hygiene for Glendale Federation, spoke briefly on what her work in that line had been for the past year.

The program for the afternoon included piano numbers by Allen
Spurr, the blind pianist of Alhambra, who is also a composer. He played the song, "P. T. A.," written by him, and which was sung by Miss Mickel-
son, a music teacher of Alhambra.
A short talk on the Near East Relief
was given by Miss Truran. The prize for the room having the most mothers present at the meeting was awarded to the first grade, in charge
of Miss Mae Cornwell. Mrs. E. B.
Moore gave a group of two excellent readings.

FAREWELL PARTY IS HELD

A farewell party was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
William H. Davies, 3722 Seneca avenue, for Beauchamp Vaughan, who is leaving in a short time for a visit of several months' duration in England. A large part of the evening was spent in dancing. Miss Elizabeth Newman, Miss Claire Metzger, Jerome Erickson and Mr. and Mrs.
David H. Anderson were present also.

Thumbs Up, Thumbs Down; Two Are Hurt In This Man's Town

Insurance premiums on thumbs
should go higher.
Two men working in Glendale
Thursday painfully injured their right thumbs, both going to Dr.
O. A. Dietrich for surgical attention, it is reported.

Paul Shellabarger, employed at the Willard Battery station, while cleaning out a battery got his major digit in the way of a sharp knife.

A few minutes later William Lane of 920 East Palmer street,
who was blocking a truckload of brick in the new Glendale Heights tract, had his thumb mashed under the five-ton load.

It would seem that thumbs are plumb out of luck.

Postmaster Jackson Extends Invitation to Public to Visit Postoffice During Week of May 1 to 6 and Promises Some Novel Features

D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster of Glendale, issued the following self-explanatory communication to the public today:

"Glendale, Cal., April 22, 1922.

"To the Patrons of the Glendale Postoffice:—It is with pleasure that the postmaster announces to the patrons of the Glendale postoffice that open house at the postoffice will be the main event of interest in the fastest growing city in America
during the week May 1 to 6.

"A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all of the patrons to visit us during that week which has been designated by the postmaster general as postal improvement week.

"The amount of brains behind the screens in a postoffice is not realized by the majority of the patrons who look at the postoffice as merely a place to call and buy stamps and get their mail.
While our quarters at present are not as commodious as we desire in order to demonstrate handling of mail to the public, we will endeavor through the assistance of our clerical and carrier force to enlighten any visitors concerning the travels and experiences of that little greeting, postcard, love note, bill or other mail matter that is simply dropped in the mail box and started on its journey.

"Surprises are in store for those who care to visit us and travel along for a little ways with the mail from the time of the journey's start until it leaves on the next lap of its journey.

"Yours very truly,

"D. RIPLEY JACKSON, Postmaster."

Today's World News In Brief (By International News Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, April 22.—Alan T. Houghton, newly appointed American ambassador to Germany, was received in special audience today by President Ebert. He was presented by Herr Von Haniel, German secretary of state.

ADDITIONAL LOVE LETTERS TO BE READ TO BURCH JURY
LOS ANGELES, April 22.—More letters and telegrams filled with affectionate terms will be read to the jury next Monday in Judge Reeve's court at the trial of Arthur C. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy. The prosecution hopes to show by the missives which passed between Mrs. Madalene Obenchain and Kennedy, and between Mrs. Obenchain and Burch the motive for the slaying of Kennedy, who was shot to death August 5, last.

DOWNTOWN TOLEDO SHOT UP IN FIGHT WITH NEGRO
TOLEDO, O., April 22.—A thousand people dodged a fusillade of bullets at noon today in the downtown district when Berman Mc-Norton, colored, of Swanton, Ohio, ran amuck armed with an automatic pistol. While hundreds watched, McNorton sent two bullets into the body of his wife, while she walked at his side. He then turned and fled, pursued by police officers peppering parked automobiles with bullets as he ran. The woman is in a serious condition.

GOVERNMENT LEASES TEA POT OIL DOME TO SINCLAIR
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Draining of the government's oil lands in California and Wyoming by private interests in adjoining fields caused the leasing of the vast reserve known as Tea Pot Dome in Wyoming to a new company headed by Harry E. Sinclair, the senate was informed today in a joint report from Secretary of the Navy Denby and Acting Secretary of the Interior Finney. The report was submitted in response to a resolution introduced by Senator Kendrick, democrat, of Wyoming, which the senate passed unanimously.

MISSISSIPPI LEVEES GIVING WAY TO SWOLLEN STREAM

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 22.—The Mississippi river levee at Myrtle Grove, eight miles below New Orleans, broke today. Water is pouring through a crevice on the west bank of the river and will inundate several plantations and farms. There was no loss of life.
Hundreds of families were fleeing to the hills today as a break in the levee at Tunicia, Miss., appeared imminent. Slim hope was held that the break would be averted as the swollen river was tearing huge chunks away from earthwork as the current battered at the embankment.

RUSSIANS DENY THEY RECOGNIZED WAR TIME DEBTS

GENOA, April 22.—Commenting on false reports circulated in the United States regarding Russia's answer to the allies, Foreign Minister Tchitcherin, head of the Russian delegation, today stated to an International News Service staff correspondent, "We never did and do not now recognize war time debts for the reasons pointed out in our memorandum. When we said, 'write down,' we meant annul, liquidate, eliminate, wipe out, forget. The French misconstrued 'write down' into require, which means reduce. We cannot reduce something we claim to be non-existent. It was an unfortunate translation, but it was not our fault."

SAN JOSE SWEETHEART'S SHOT MAY NOT BE FATAL

SAN JOSE, April 22.—Reports from the Red Cross hospital today indicated that the tearful prayers of pretty 14-year-old Irene Granstedt have been answered and her 17-year-old sweetheart, Harold Galloway, shot after a lovers' quarrel, will recover. The boy has amazed surgeons by his tenacious hold on life and with a decided turn for the better, believed today he had more than an even chance for recovery. Meanwhile little Miss Granstedt has been whisked away from the little juvenile home detention cell here to the home of Mrs. Harriet Osgood, where she has gone into seclusion. Too many "window-ledge" callers is believed to have prompted the action.

NATIONAL COAL MINE STRIKE STARTS FOURTH WEEK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 22.—Opening of the fourth week of the national coal strike today found the miners and operators just as far from an agreement on their wage controversy as they were when the gigantic walkout was called April 1. The 600,000 union miners of the country, reinforced, according to their claims, by approximately 100,000 others, are still holding out, standing pat on their demand for continuance of the present wage scale in the great soft coal fields and for an increase in wages in the anthracite fields. On the other hand the operators have not yielded an inch in their determination to break up the system of dealing with the miners on a country-wide basis.

RAILWAY LABOR BOARD MUST DEFEND ITS POWERS

CHICAGO, April 22.—The United States railway labor board lost its fight today to obtain dismissal of the injunction suit brought against it by the Pennsylvania railroad. Judge Page, in the federal court, upheld the injunction granted the Pennsylvania which means that the case probably will go to trial on its merits. The Pennsylvania obtained a temporary injunction restraining the labor board from interfering in its method of conducting negotiations with its employees regarding wages and working conditions. The road charged that the board was operating virtually as a compulsory arbitration board, and denied its authority to act. It is expected the trial of the case will result in a court definition in the powers of the labor board.

DEBATE TEAMS OF HIGH SCHOOL WIN BOTH CONTESTS

Glendale Orators Winners In Talkfest With San Diego-
Hollywood Delegation

Glendale debaters yesterday
proved that California should
and should not establish a judicial court
similar to the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations.

The affirmative was represented
in the auditorium of Hollywood High school by Miss Helen Sherwood, 357
West Broadway, and Harold Majors, 123 North Everett street.

They called attention to the fact that there were 1932 strikes in the coal mining industry alone in Kansas during the three years before the establishment of this court and only 226 strikes altogether in that state
since its establishment.

They characterized the establishment of the court as a definite step toward democracy. They advocated the creation of this court as a bridge between capital and labor.

At Local School

The negative was upheld against San Diego High school in the auditorium of Glendale Union High school by Miss Kathleen Campbell of North Glendale and Victor Colburn, 458 Hawthorne street. They agreed that the court was nothing more than an old principle under a new name
and that it was really a board of arbitration.

They reminded their audience that it was socialism in tendency and stated that it would separate capital
and labor because it would bring them into court as plaintiff and defendant. They denounced as autocratic the empowering of the three individuals to determine wages, and selling prices.

"Surely the people of California
will not stand for the paternalistic
idea, which reached the height of development in Germany under the Kaiser," stated Miss Campbell. "No,
we want no dictators; no kaisers; no triumvirates under the name of an industrial court."

Standing Not Known

The same side of the question was taken by Victor Colburn who said in part:

"The affirmative are presenting to you a falling system and they ask you to accept it—a plan that is a violation of economic laws by interfering with the freedom of contract
—a plan that invades the right of private property and is absolutely opposed to the fundamentals of our government."

Although Glendale won both sides of the debate her standing in the league has not been ascertained yet.

H. A. McMullen Tells About Ivanhoe Hills

Residents of Glendale are casting longing eyes towards the homesites now being offered for sale in the hills of Ivanhoe, according to a statement of H. A. McMullen, sales manager of the Ivanhoe Realty company.

"Indications are," said Mr. McMullen, "that a very large percentage of those purchasing homesites in the unit now being sold, will be present Glendale residents."

"They seek to take advantage of the many conveniences offered by the unit now being sold, which they would be but fifteen minutes from the heart of the business district in Los Angeles. At the same time they would have at their homes all the quietude and remoteness of suburban dwelling places."

Ivanhoe Hills are situated along Glendale boulevard and the unit now being sold is the first to be carved out of the picturesque Griffith estate. Less than a mile away is the entrance to scenic Griffith park, of which, topographically speaking, Ivanhoe Hills is a continuation. A pleasing and unusual view is offered by these homesites. Just to the south is situated Silver Lake, the largest and most scenic body of water in Los Angeles.

Looking northward one obtains a panorama of the San Fernando valley and Glendale, and in the background the Sierra Madre, Mt. Baldy and Mt. Wilson. One advantage of these homesites is that water has already been piped to them and construction can be started immediately by purchasers. Other public utilities are also available.

Roland Square Lots Sell Fast, Is Report

The extraordinary demand that continues, apparently without pause, for good residential building lots in Glendale, has been exhibited in a very striking manner at the new northwest section home subdivision, Roland Square, according to J. Harvey McCarthy, who says he has been obliged to put out a "Step lively, or you'll get left" sign at his tract office on that property.

"When I came back to Glendale a little while ago, my friends thought I was making a mistake, because, as they said, I had so long and so actively been identified with Los Angeles real estate that I could scarcely have a thorough understanding of conditions in Glendale. But I knew Glendale of old, had operated here several years ago and have never lost touch with its wonderful progress. I knew that all Glendale real estate is valuable now and must steadily increase in value with its great population growth. So I followed my own judgment and bought Eagle Glen Heights out on East Broadway. That has been a wonderful successful real estate operation, and has served to draw attention to the merits of property in the eastern sections of Glendale. Then I bought the Gray tract, on West Doran street and Patterson avenue, opposite the new municipal park. Roland Square was opened only two weeks ago, yet I am already advertising that if anyone wants to buy a lot there they had better 'step lively,' for sales there have been in such numbers that the best of the sites will have been disposed of very quickly."

Dartt & Anderson, local agents for Roland Square, report that improvement work at Roland Square is proceeding as fast as a big force of men can get it done. In a short time all streets will have been cut through, graded and built, curbs will be in, sidewalks paved, and every public utility installed. Several residences are planned, they say, and actual construction is a matter of only a few days.

Miniature Bungalow Is Being Made at School

If it were possible to put shrinking fluid on a standard size bungalow, and let it work until the structure was one-fourth its natural size, then remove the fluid, a more clear conception of the model which is under construction in the wood working department of the Glendale high school would be had.

W. Gorman, instructor in wood-working and cabinet making at the school, stated that the smallest details are taken into consideration and the plans in this bungalow are followed out as closely as if it were going to be the home of a king. The miniature bungalow contains six rooms, bath, kitchen and in every way it is complete.

In the cabinet department, which is also under Mr. Gorman's charge, will be found a regular mahogany reading table and its superior will be hard to find. The table was built by a fifteen-year-old boy by the name of Charles McClean.

Another piece of cabinet work which has caused considerable interest and comment, is a small reading desk built by two boys, Earl Johnson and David Lind, who have since left Mr. Gorman's class and are in their graduating class. The desk which is perfect in every detail was not touched by the instructor, he said. This desk will be used in the auditorium of the school for the classes when they give recitals and debating contests, he stated.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL BALL TEAM LOSES TO ALHAMBRA

Glendale Has Too Many Errors
for One Game; Aageson Has
but One Bad Inning

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor Evening News
With a total of eight errors chalked up against them, the Glendale high school baseball team, playing their prize "boner" contest of the year, yesterday came out on the short end of an 8 to 7 game with the more systematic Alhambra nine. The visitors, although not showing up so well as batters as the locals, played a bang-up game in the field, making but one error.

The game was a heartbreaking one for "Fish" Aageson, Glendale pitcher, who hurled good ball with the exception of the eighth inning, when the Alhambraites scored five runs on four hits, a base on balls and three Glendale misplays. Until the fateful eighth the young speedball merchant had not yielded a single hit and had fanned ten batters. This feat, coupled with the fact that his support was inexcusably poor, is one seldom accomplished by any hurler, whether in a high school, sand lot or major league game.

Glendale started things rolling in the opening round when, after two were out, "Spark Plug" Wilson singled through the second baseman, advanced to second and third on Terzo's bingle. Dutcher ended the spasm by whiffing at three perfect strikes.

Locals Lead in Fourth

Alhambra's first unearned run of the day came in the second inning when Lane walked, took second on a sacrifice fly to Terzo in center field, advanced to third on Ringstead's error and scored a moment later on Wilson's bobbie.

The locals again surged ahead in the fourth round when a brace of runs were made on McCourt's second hit of the day, an error by Second Baseman Ritter, Aageson's fielder's choice and Pete Fruhling's sacrifice fly to deep center. In the seventh Wilson started things popping with his second single of the game, stole second and pranced home on Terzo's two base clout.

The disastrous eighth round, in which the Alhambra players staged their five-run rally, happened as follows: Riddle, their pitcher, was an easy out, Fruhling to McCourt, David, the next man up, hit a sharp one to left field which managed to get between Geib's legs. Fox, their next batter, then rolled an easy one to Green at third, who fozzled the chance. The next three men singled, and before Aageson could gather himself together sufficiently to fan the next batter the damage had been done and five runners had crossed the platter.

In the last half of the ninth Glendale, laboring under a three-run handicap, made a valiant attempt to tie the score, only to have its rally nipped in the bud after two runs had been scored. Wilson opened the inning by drawing a walk. Geib, the next man up, sent him to second on a roller to shortstop. Terzo, who was the individual batting star of the afternoon, then came through with his third hit of the game, sending Wilson. Terzo promptly stole second, took third on McCourt's infield out and scored on Dutcher's single. At this stage of the game Dutcher suddenly attempted to double Ty Cobb by stealing second, third and home in rapid succession, only to be thwarted in his efforts at home.

Number of Decisions Are Made by Landis

CHICAGO, April 22.—Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, in a number of decisions handed down today, reiterated his firm stand that players in organized baseball who desert their clubs and play with "independent" or "semi-pro" organizations cannot be reinstated until they have been free from their "independent associations" for at least one year.

In today's decision the following players were denied reinstatement on the above grounds:
John A. Wellesing of the Yankees; Mike Prendergast of the Phillies; Milton Steengraef of the White Sox; J. Thompson Prothro of the Washington club and Sidney Agnew of the Yanks.

J. K. Lindsey of the Cleveland Indians who retired because of illness (his wife was reinstated, since he had violated no rules of organized baseball).
The claim of Hub Perdue for back salary from the Nashville club of the Southern Association was denied.

The claim of Joseph Cosgrove, former manager of the Waterbury, Conn., club that he is legally a free agent was denied.

Tagging All Bases

At last! As the hero said when he folded her in his massive arms. The Detroit Tigers finally broke into the victory column, after half a dozen starts, by beating the Cleveland Indians, 15 to 7.

Duster Mails, who pitched a shut-out in his first start, was driven to cover.

The Dodgers got to Jess Barnes for 13 hits, but scored only one run and the Giants coasted home to another victory.

The Cincinnati Reds were all set to romp in with a victory when the irrepressible Cubs fell upon Eppa Rixey and with a seven-run rally in the lucky seventh won as they pleased.

One of those rare blossoms of early spring, a pitchers' battle, saw the Yankees again beat the Senators, 1 to 0. Bob Shawkey and Tom Phillips broke even on the honors, a wild throw by Lamott letting in the only run of the game in the first inning.

Bandit Picture and Anita Stewart Film Showing at T. D. & L.

The Roy Gardner pictures, motion pictures of intimate and personal glimpses and happenings that followed on the capture of the much talked of bandit, now showing at the T. D. & L. theatre, caused considerable local interest all day yesterday and were witnessed by hundreds of Glendaleans at the popular play house. Of a sensational type and nature, these pictures offer a novel showing and afford considerable personal knowledge of the man who, although a highwayman, at no time used criminal or vicious methods or harmed a single person.

In addition to the Roy Gardner bandit pictures, Anita Stewart's unusual photodrama, "Her Mad Bargain," is featured.

"My Lady Friends," an excruciatingly funny farce, will start a two-day run at the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow as a First National attraction.

Reports from other cities state that the production is one of the most humorous ever shown on the screen.

"My Lady Friends" was adapted from the stage play of the same name by Emile Noystray and Frank Mandel. Lloyd Ingraham directed it.

Spanish Luncheon at Woodlands on Sunday

One hundred and eighty-five more lots in a new subdivision of beautiful Verdugo Woodlands are placed on sale tomorrow by the P. P. Newport company which will be hosts at a Spanish luncheon to be served in the new natural California pavilion on Ramona Drive.

Already many reservations have been made and tomorrow it is expected that almost every investor and homeseeker in this city and southern California will be present to look over the newest and choicest offering seen in the "green Verdugo Hills" since the Spanish dons first set foot on California soil. "Verdugo Woodlands seems to include everything worth while in outdoor California. This wooded fairland is rich in romance and historic value. The environment is intimately connected with the early history of southern California, and for many years it was the favorite retreat of the first families of the pueblo of Los Angeles," says one writer.

Another says it is "a foothill suburb that far surpasses Hollywood or Altadena in diversified scenic charm, and particularly in climate, elevation and mountain water." See it tomorrow, and be ready to buy, advises W. L. Twining, manager of the Newport company, who resides there himself.

More Firmness to Germany Is Demand

PARIS, April 22.—Premier Poincare's supporters are beginning to demand increased firmness towards Germany as a result of the treaty of Rapallo. The French press does not by any means regard the treaty incident as closed, as stated by Premier Lloyd George at Genoa.

"France committed a capital mistake by not recalling her delegation after the publication of the treaty," said Pertinax, political expert. "Poincare's instructions to Barthou were incomplete. Either Poincare should give Barthou power to act or go to Genoa himself and take charge."

The nationalist newspaper L'Eclair, a supporter of the premier, is seeking to force the premier to order occupation of the Ruhr district in Germany. "Does this mean war?" queries the paper with reference to occupying the Ruhr. "No, it is peace," the paper continued, "because Germany without the Ruhr would be really disarmed and at our mercy."

"It is necessary to face the facts," commented the Figaro. "France suffered a defeat at Genoa."

The French war minister, M. Maginot, accompanied by M. Devezze, the Belgian minister of defense, will begin a tour of inspection of the Rhineland on Monday, it was announced today.

When you buy a lot consider location, restrictions, lay of land and what's going to be built around the addition in which you put your money. After you buy it's too late to find out that the lots across the street from you are sold to a class who are going to build "things" they call houses which reduce the value of your investment.

In Annandale Estates you have without question, the location, with Club Golf Links on two sides (THE CLUB OWNS THE PROPERTY, TOO), then on the east you have highly restricted residence lots, and on the north you'll find some of the most beautiful estates in California. THIS IS ALL THERE NOW. NO TALK ABOUT WHAT'S GOING TO BE, BUT COME, SEE FOR YOURSELF.

All Irish Industry to Close on Monday

DUBLIN, April 22.—The city is prepared for a complete shut-down of all industry on Monday as a result of the general strike called as a protest against the military tactics of the two factions of the army.

Even the city corporation has agreed to support the strikers. The mayor, in addressing the council, declared: "Why not get rid of these Irish armies as we did the British? We can do without them. Let these bullies clear out and then the people of the city will have peace."

Although the general strike has been called for the whole country, it is not expected that any places except the Nationalist centers will be affected. Leader O'Connor of the mineers has sent a copy of their peace terms to the secretary of the Dail, demanding that the Dail be the only government. He also demands that the elections be postponed and asks an answer by Sunday.

English law does not recognize gambling or betting debts. There are exceptions, but this is the general rule.

Experimental Farm to Be Part of Business

Another new business is to be opened at 1214 East Broadway tomorrow which will be known as The Stein's Feed, Seed & Implement company.

This firm will carry everything for the garden, lawn and poultry yard and will specialize in Sperry's high grade feeds, Buist's prize medal garden seeds and implements from the largest hardware concern in Los Angeles.

Charles Stein has had thirty years' experience in the selling of his line and in the growing of vegetables and the raising of poultry. He has been a resident of Glendale for the past two years. He is a graduate of Tulare University of Louisiana, graduate of the American Poultry School of Kansas City and a member of the Los Angeles Farm Bureau.

A small experimental farm for the rear of his store is being planned by Mr. Stein, who expects to be able in this manner to show his customers the best methods to use with both vegetables and poultry.

Fire Laddies Balk at Stopping Poker Game

DEFIANCE, Ohio.—Defiance firemen, who thought they had been called out on every available sort of mission—from rescuing passengers in the gondolas on a gear-jammed Ferris wheel to dragging the rivers for a missing woman—received a new thrill when called into service to break up a poker party which, neighbors thought, was making too much noise.

Answering the telephone alarm, sounded at 4 a. m. by an excited woman, the fire laddies failed to find any blaze at the address given. They did, however, discover drawn shades and the teletale, "Hey, Eddie!"

They went back to bed.

Minnesota Woman Is Indorsed for Senate

MINNEAPOLIS.—Mrs. Peter Olson of Cloquet has been indorsed by the state democratic convention as their candidate for the United States Senate at the June primaries.

It was said that it was probably the first time a major political party has indorsed a woman for the United States Senate.

Mrs. Olson has taken a prominent part in Democratic politics in Minneapolis and the nation for several years.

OPPOSED TO OIL LEASES

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels poured a broadside of hot shot upon his arrival here today into the Harding administration for leasing the naval oil reserves of California and Wyoming to private interests. Stripped for action, as he laughingly expressed it, Daniels declared that he was ready to join in the fight begun by Senators La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, and Kendrick, Democrat, of Wyoming, to prevent the government's oil lands from being "exploited for private profit."

Five People Dead in Explosion at Downey

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Five persons are dead and several others were reported near death's door today as the result of the terrific Downey blast which occurred when a gasoline tank exploded after catching fire supposedly from an acetylene torch. The dead:

Walter Pulley, druggist.
W. E. Jarvis, plumber, formerly of Fresno.
Clyde Wierbach, foreman Downey Asbestos company.
Edward Vandergrift, retired.
Lester Johnson, high school student of Riviera.

Besides these five men, more than a score of others were seriously burned and many others received burns and injuries for which they were treated at their homes or by family physicians.

DESERT ROUTE TO BIG BEAR LAKE IS ATTRACTIVE

P. V. Potter Tells of Valley
Conditions; Many Campers
to Enter Mountains

After having spent a most delightful Easter week at Big Bear lake in the San Bernardino mountains, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Potter and daughter, Dorothy, of 463 Hawthorne street, have returned to Glendale. Miss Janice Messerly of 640 North Orange street, was cabin guest of the Potters.

Mr. Potter states that the trip up via the desert route and Victorville, a distance of 153 miles, consumed less than eight hours, which included a number of stops for gas, picture taking, dinner at Hotel Hesperia, etc. According to Mr. Potter, the desert and mountain roads over this route to Bear Valley are in good condition after a very heavy winter and no trouble whatever was experienced in arriving at their destination on the south shore of Big Bear Lake.

Desert Route Attractive
Commenting further on the trip, Mr. Potter says that the desert route to Bear Valley is exceptionally beautiful and attractive at this time. The desert wild flowers are abundant, the Joshua trees are in full bloom, the atmosphere is very clear, permitting the eye to cover great distances and the snow-capped mountain peaks are ever in view.

Both the Cushman and Johnson grades leading up out of the desert to the lake are in fine condition. There is no snow now on the road, but on the slopes and in protected places there may be noted drifts as much as four and five feet high. The weather is ideal, clear and sunny throughout the day with just a touch of "winter" at night.

The ice is fast breaking up in the lake and motor boats are appearing again after a winter of idleness. The fish hatcheries are now operating and there is every evidence that May 1st, the opening of the fishing season, will see the beginning of one of the best fishing years of this popular resort.

The water is running over the spillway of the Bear Lake dam and never has Big Bear Lake appeared so beautiful and charming as at the present.

Many Visitors In Valley
Mr. Potter states that many visitors are now in Bear Valley and increasing numbers are arriving daily. Practically all of the camps will be open for business by May 1 to take care of the big influx of fishermen who annually test their skill in the waters of Big Bear Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Potter are owners and managers of Camp Potter at Big Bear Lake and are preparing to entertain a large number of Glendale people at their resort this season. Mr. Potter will return in a few days to Big Bear Lake to place Camp Potter in readiness to receive guests by May 1.

All the work in a Colorado Springs grocery store is done by electricity, the bins being opened by magnets and the scales being electrically operated.

EDITORIAL

Poppies!
Prosperity!
Popular payments!
Three thoughts on the automotive industry this week.

Let's begin with the poppies. If you have been so fortunate as to glide outside the city, you will have noticed the poppies and other wild flowers dotting the hillsides. If you have not made the trip recently, get out the car and take a run about. The verdant hills never looked better. You will feel better for the look.

The second thought—prosperity. Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company, who is in New York City to attend the Ford tractor show, today declared that 1922 probably would be the largest year in the history of the Ford Motor company. He said he expected production this year to be 1,000,000 cars and trucks as a minimum.

Ford expressed the highest optimism for business generally, but declared that freight rates must come down if the business situation is to be cleared up entirely. He declared there was no intention to reduce the price of the Ford car just at present.

There you have the viewpoint of a representative of a great house of industry. "Probably the largest year in the history" of that institution!

The third thought, that of popular payments, causes us to briefly comment on the fact that there is really no excuse for one not having a motor car of some kind.

Easy payments may be arranged for and the dealers are always willing to do their full share in placing an automobile in the garage of responsible people.

It's easy to buy an auto and pay for it while you use it.

The automobile section of The Glendale Evening News contains the announcements of the representative dealers of Glendale—read them carefully for the good it will do you.

Railways Use Busses

There are thirty-six electric traction companies now operating busses. These are located in various sections of the United States, including Boston, Mass., Bakerfield, Cal., Minneapolis, Minn., and Fort Worth, Tex.

Driving on a Flat

When it is absolutely necessary to run on a flat tire keep the tire in soft dirt if possible. If the trouble occurs on city streets run on the trolley track rather than on cobblestones.

DRIVE SAFE PLEDGE MADE BY MANY, SIGNS SHOW

Southern California Automobile
Club Here Finds a Great Demand for Emblem

"They are simply knocking me off my feet," was the answer M. B. Townsend, local representative of the Automobile Club of Southern California, made when asked if the office here is receiving very many requests for the "Southern California Safe Driver's Pledge."

When the pledges, which are being given out by the automobile club, are properly signed, the club then presents the driver with a round poster to be placed on his windshield. The posters are green with a white cross in the center. The cars on the streets of Glendale show that the club must be working overtime in order to supply the demand.

Line Up For Safety

When the Chamber of Commerce expedition left here last Wednesday, practically every car in the line had one of these posters on their windshield. The expedition was composed of business men of Glendale. They toured all of the towns in the San Fernando valley and vicinity, as a boost for Glendale.

"The drivers with right thinking minds are looking upon this new safety club with great favor," said a local automobile man when asked what he thought of the system. "The first law of nature is to protect one's self and that is about what this pledge does," he continued.

Here Is Pledge

The pledge is as follows: "In return for the Southern California safe driver's windshield emblem, furnished by the Public Safety Department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, I agree to drive carefully at all times, familiarize myself with the city and state traffic regulations and then observe them. I will do all I can to set a good example by being courteous on the road and I further agree that when I dispose of this car, I will remove the safe driver's emblem."

A small pamphlet containing some of the most important automobile laws of the state and cities, is also given to the applicants who desire them so there is no excuse for not knowing the right from the wrong when driving.

Proper Care of Battery

Never put acid into the battery. A storage battery can only be charged by a direct current. When charging, the positive wire of the charging current must be connected to the positive of the battery and the negative to the negative. Charge slowly.

To Co-ordinate Laws

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has issued a report recommending that the President appoint a commissioner general of transportation, whose duty it would be to co-ordinate interstate transportation and the administration of laws governing the same.

Better Watch Out, Chauffeur, Here's the Radio Car

It may come to pass that in a short time there will no longer be need for a chauffeur to drive one along the highways. This photograph shows an automobile controlled by radio being demonstrated. While gasoline supplies the motive power, it is started, reversed, turned around, curved and guided entirely by radio devices. Here is how it is done. A number of electro-magnets are placed on the car—each electro-magnet controlling some part of the mechanism of the car. These magnets each have a detecting set tuned to a generator wave of a certain amplitude. Thus if an operator at a station wants to start the car, he will send out, we will say, a 10-meter wave length which the detecting outfit on electro magnet on car that is tuned for 10-meter wave will pick up and throw the gears into first speed; 15-meter wave for second speed, 20 for third, 30 for reverse, etc. Collisions are avoided by a visualization lens located at the sending station. This lens shows the operator just what is taking place in the path of his car. The principal involved in the "visualization lens" is still a secret, known only by its inventor, Walter J. Garvey, shown alongside of the car.

U.S. Good Roads Show at Phoenix Favored By High Officials

J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads association, Bankhead National Highway association and the United States Roads show, makes two important announcements in regard to these conventions which will meet in Phoenix, Ariz., on April 24-25.

The first of these announcements is that Senator Charles E. Townsend of Michigan, the senate leader on the good roads question and perhaps the foremost good roads advocate in the United States, has decided definitely to attend the convention and make the keynote address of the meeting. Senator Townsend's definite acceptance has been received by letter and also by wire.

The second announcement is a telegram from Congressman Carl Hayden who wired that the Bureau of Public Roads has packed and delivered the United States Good Roads exhibit to the Southern Railway, which would handle the same to New Orleans and there the Southern Pacific would take over the shipment and deliver this exhibit to Phoenix in plenty of time for the United States Good Roads show.

Leland Declares Suit Against Lincoln Co. By U. S. Is Unjust

Wilfred C. Leland, general manager of the defunct Lincoln Motors company, said in Detroit recently that there was "absolutely" no justification for the claim for which the government is suing the receivers.

Leland, in a statement to the Dow Jones & company financial agency in Detroit, said: "On behalf of Henry M. Leland and myself, I desire to state that, based on our knowledge of the business transacted between the Lincoln Motor company and the United States government, a full settlement was reached in 1919 and until February of this year, we had not the slightest intimation that the government intended to overturn the settlement. Suggestion that the government was defrauded, is entirely wrong. It will be found that the charges are absolutely wrong and unfounded."

Henry M. Leland, the father, was the president and the one through whose engineering ability the Lincoln motor car was designed.

Drivers of Cars to Be Told of Lights

The entire police force of Oakland, was assembled recently and given instructions on headlight enforcement by officials of the California Automobile Trade association. Twenty-two stations have been established in Alameda county for the purpose of adjusting headlights and they were all put through a rigid examination before they were passed by the association experts.

After leaving Alameda county, Mr. Templeton and Mr. Voyer, inspecting officials establishing the stations, went to Santa Clara county to inspect some more stations. Very few adjustments were made in Alameda county, although a number of the firms were requested to change things about before it was advisable for them to receive an appointment. The plan has not been to arrest, but to warn motorists. But, when the stations are all established, there will be no excuse for a motorist to drive with improperly adjusted headlights.

NEW RECORDS FOR 50 AND 100 MILES ARE MENACED

Best Speed Stars in Business
to Meet in North in Big Battle on May 7

COTATI SPEEDWAY, April 22.—Intent on shattering the world's fifty and 100-mile records, the thirteen speed demons listed for the meet, are anxiously awaiting Starter Fred J. Wagner's red flag, that diadem of speed which is to set the May 7 international speed battle in motion on the fast Cotati bowl. Never before has a northern California race-test promised so much for the racing fan, and never before have the drivers been keyed up for an event in this part of the state as they are tuned for the Cotati classic, the last of the spring race meets of the California championship series.

Interest centers around the great Italian driver, Pietro Bordino, pilot of the famous "three-bottle" Fiat. Bordino has come from his home in sunny Italy with the fast Italian Grand Prix car to try his skill and speed against the young battlers of the race ring in America. Bordino has traveled 5000 miles with the hope of winning fame and fortune on the board speedways of California. He has a fast car, and he is a daring driver—a truly great driver, but Bordino is up against the toughest field he has ever known in the May 7th battle at Cotati. The Italian entrant will have to drive as he has never driven before when he rolls away in the fifty-mile dash with the pack of mechanical wolves snarling, barking, frothing.

Makes Great Showing

At Los Angeles Bordino defeated the national champion, Tommy Milton, in the twenty-five mile heat, and was running so close to the champion in the twenty-third lap of the final heat that a saddle blanket could have been thrown over the two cars, when Art Klein and Frank Elliott piled up in the Italian's path and spoiled his chances. Even with the wreck which battered his car and tore off a tire, Bordino returned to the race and won fourth money.

This alone was enough to make him a great favorite with the wise race fans of the south; but Bordino had already won the hearts of the Los Angeles speedway followers in the 250-mile championship event when he was pronounced the wildest driver seen on the American speed-trail since the death of "Wild" Bob Burman.

Driving Hints

There is no need to tell the old driver that railroad tracks should be crossed diagonally to ease the jolt which is bad enough at best, but the new driver will save himself some shaking up by heeding this advice. Again, it will be found advantageous to drive up long steep grades in the country, where traffic is light, in a series of zig-zags, as teamsters do. This lightens the grade and helps the motor.

Less to Operate Cars

The Cleveland Trust Company estimates that it costs more than one-third less to operate a car today than it did a year ago. Gasoline is down 33 per cent, tires 38 per cent and oil 43 per cent.

Times Have Changed

When automobiles first became popular, only the most reckless pedestrian would start across the street when there was a car coming within a block. Today men, women and children dive carelessly into the path of taxicabs, busses and trucks, trusting their lives to the skill of the drivers and the efficiency of brakes. Truly, it is the infrequency of accidents, considering conditions, that should cause astonishment, rather than the number of accidents.

Eight Cars in Liberia

With a population of 250,000 inhabitants, Liberia is the most backward of all the nations in adopting the automobile. There are only eight cars in the country.

Best Speed Stars in Business to Meet in North in Big Battle on May 7

lists—Ralph De Palma, the veteran whose driving career dates back to the earliest days of the speed sport. De Palma is a Vanderbilt cup winner. He has competed in foreign classics and figured in more speed battles than any one man in the world today. De Palma is driving a Duesenberg Special at Cotati, having shipped the French Ballot back across the Atlantic.

Then there is young Peter De Paola who is driving the fourth race of his speedway career at Cotati on May 7. Young De Paola is Ralph De Palma's nephew, and for two seasons he rode as De Palma's mechanic in the Ballot. He made his debut as a driver in the 25-mile race at Los Angeles, then appeared at San Carlos and is also to drive at Fresno.

With these three Italian speed men in the lists, their countrymen should have three likely contenders for first honors in both the fifty-mile dash and in the 100-mile classic.

Boy Wonder in Race

Another corner of the international speed feud is upheld by Jimmy Murphy who is making his first appearance with the new Miller motor which was installed in his Duesenberg classic. Murphy will have with him the greatest crew of speed men in the business and these will be led by Harry Hartz, the boy wonder, winner of the recent San Carlos classic, which was his fifth race. Hartz started driving last Thanksgiving day when he graduated from the mechanic's seat of Eddie Hearne's Distel-Duesenberg. He placed the money that day and has finished in the money in every race he has entered, defeating Jimmy Murphy at San Carlos.

Eddie Hearne, winner of the inaugural Cotati meet and winner of the 250-mile championship race at Los Angeles Thanksgiving day when he hung up a new world's record, is to drive at Cotati and then go to Indianapolis where he is to end his driving career. Like De Palma, Hearne is a real veteran of the racing sport. He was winning championships on dirt track and road courses when Harry Hartz was riding in a go-cart. He has stayed with the sport and seen many of the big drivers pass out in a crash or go over the rail, never to come back, or retire when the pace got too fast; but he has stayed until now he is retiring to devote his speed energy to an act on the stage.

Plenty of Stars

Another veteran is Art Klein. Art started driving on the coast in 1913, and he has been a feature pilot on the race courses of the country ever since with the exception of the time he spent in the air service as a member of the A. E. F. Then there is Joe Thomas, the boy who won second in the last Cotati race with his hand in such condition that his physician forbade him to drive just before he started. Roscoe Sables is another. Sables won the last Cotati race and is a natural favorite in the Sonoma County center, Santa Rosa, but Sables has a lot of competition ahead of him.

There is Jerry Wonderlick on the Grand Prix Duesenberg; Frank Elliott on the Leach Special with the fast Miller motor. There is Eddie Miller, the boy who took second in the Los Angeles race won by Sables, and then there is Tommy Milton, the national champion.

Milton did not start at San Carlos. He has entered the Cotati race and may start, but the car he was driving, Cliff Durant's famous blue Durant Special, is under the ban of the A. A. A. and unless the chairman of the Contest Board changes his mind regarding the car, it is probable that the great Milton, national champion and leader for the championship this season, will have to sit on the side lines as he did at Santa Carlos, with the fast Durant Special locked in a barn somewhere on the Durant estate.

Leather Upholstery

Leather upholstery should be wiped with a woolen cloth dipped in water, to which a few drops of ammonia has been added.

Alterations to the features by what is known as plastic surgery, were performed on women 2,000 years ago.

Demonstration Proves Worth of Maxwell

In Ithaca, N. Y., atop one of the steepest hills in all the charted regions of the earth, there overlooking Cayuga Lake, stands Cornell university. And, according to Lyman P. Clark of Glendale Motor Car company, local Maxwell dealers, "High above Cayuga's Waters" is not only a college song, but a disagreeable fact to any motorist who must climb that hill.

To at least three men, however, the ascent to the university campus has been leveled to a mere nothing," Mr. Clark states. "Recently three cars of the new series of the good Maxwell were sold to Professors Ayres, Birch and Fisk of Cornell.

"Each man, before buying, requested that he be permitted to put the car through his own demonstration test. Naturally, that was agreed to; and each one started the car from standing start and in high gear, and made the difficult ascent with ease.

"Professor Ayres, teacher of farm mechanics, went a bit further with his test. He chose a road filled with deep ruts and otherwise very bumpy. First the car was sent over the selected course at a speed no greater than five miles an hour; then at increasing speeds up to twenty-five miles an hour. The results were conclusive and Professor Ayres is now a Maxwell owner.

"We believe that anyone who will take the trouble to demonstrate a good Maxwell to himself, as did these men, will be equally impressed with its power and strength and comfort."

Dolled-Up Chevrolet To Draw Attention

An automobile that will catch the eye of everybody will be rolling on the streets of Glendale in a few days and it might be said of the car "she's all dolled up," according to H. W. Smith of the local Chevrolet agency, rear of 400 East Broadway.

The car will be a regular stock model Chevrolet, but, in addition to the regular standard equipment, the new cars will have wire wheels, nickel-plated radiator, headlights and windshield frame, motorometer and bar cap, wind wings and visor. The local company have one of the cars of this description completed.

When asked about the condition of business, Mr. Smith stated that so far this month, they have averaged a car per day in the sales department.

Take Special Course In Automotive Sales

Because of the fact that the present year is expected to be the greatest year in the history of the Ford car business, several salesmen of Jesse E. Smith, Ford agent, 115-125 West Colorado, are taking a special course in what is known as the automotive merchandising council, which is conducted by Wayne Hearn, now at the Alexander Hotel, Los Angeles. Mr. Hearn is an expert in the inspection of salesmanship and he will train the men in the executive work, announced Mr. Smith this morning.

To bear out the expectations for the year in the business sense, Mr. Smith said they cannot deliver any model of Fords at the present and the orders for future deliveries are rolling in in numbers. However, if a man wants a car in a rush, he will receive his car at the appointed time. He also stated that the money sitting with the purchasers of cars is much better than it has been for some time, meaning that payments are made more promptly.

"The recent reduction of $20 on the Ford cars has created its proportionate effect upon the sale of cars," he said, "and it will doubtless show its effects after it has become more generally known throughout the coast."

H. M. Parker Asserts Battery Needs Tests

Practically all motorists recognize the benefit of a spring overhauling for the car and now these tasks are in full swing.

But the tightening of bearings and the cleaning of the carbon out of the motor are not sufficient, according to H. M. Parker, manager of the local Exide service station, 113 West Harvard.

"The battery," says Mr. Parker, "requires more or less attention at all times of the year, but especially after it has stood in the car—idle and otherwise—in the winter."

"The wisest course is to drive your car to the nearest service station and let skilled electricians inspect, and test it, and tell you if it needs any repairs."

"To sum it up, remember your battery is an important part of your car. Give it at least the same attention you would any other part of the machinery and all will be pleased."

J. C. Pollock Service Aids Oldsmobile Sale

Hearing of the wonderful reputation that the local Oldsmobile agency has for giving service to its customers, George J. Seiben of Venice came over and bought a model "42."

Mr. Seiben said that he has been driving an "Olds" for some years and it was not necessary for him to trouble his mind about the make of car to buy and then the only thing left to consider was the service. J. C. Pollock, who conducts the local agency at 208-210 West Broadway, said that Mr. Seiben will not be disappointed in the service which he will receive here.

H. E. Barnum of Eagle Rock, another "repeat" purchaser a Sport model "46" Oldsmobile in the past week and he likewise spoke of the good service received at the hands of the J. C. Pollock company.

"We believe the Hupmobile to be the best car of its class in the world."

Lyman & Lund Give Sudden Auto Service

Gas, oil, water, air, tires, vulcanizing and practically anything necessary to the proper running of an automobile can be had in a few minutes, served in the latest way at Lyman & Lund, 301 East Broadway, according to Mr. Lyman.

The station is located on a corner and so well equipped is the company with the latest style gas, oil and grease pumps, that to fill a gasoline tank it is only necessary to stick the nozzle of the hose in the auto tank, press a button and it runs in by compressed air. Another feature of the station is they give free crank-case service. The company are exclusive agents for the Mason racing tires.

Standard Garage Not Sold, It's Announced

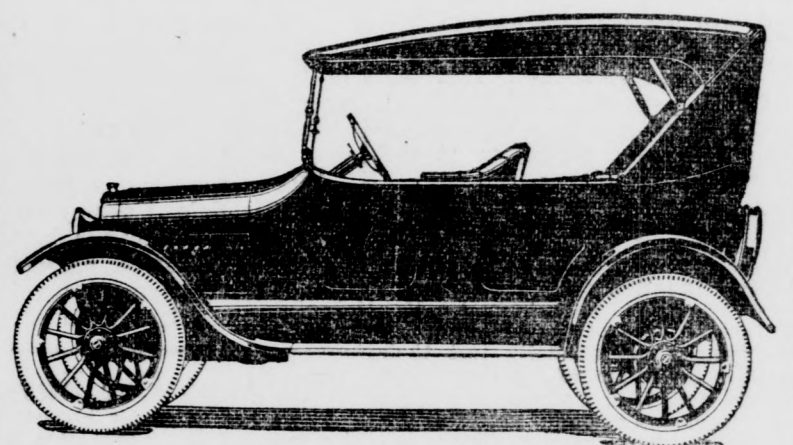

"The report which has been circulated broadcast in Glendale that we sold out is absolutely without foundation," said R. L. Webster, of the Standard Garage, located in the rear of 400 East Broadway.

"We have been in business here for the past eight months and have established a good name, credited to the class of work we have done, and we expect to keep it," continued Mr. Webster.

The Standard Garage specializes in Ford repairing. However, they are open to do repairing on any car. At present they are taking care of all of the service work of the Chevrolet agency.

Talk Gasoline Tax

New York state is the latest commonwealth to start talking gasoline tax. The joint legislative committee appointed last year to consider amendments to the laws affecting motor vehicles has brought in this proposition as one of its recommendations.

AUTO CLUB NEWS

Unusual interest is being taken in the safety campaign now being waged by the Auto Club of Southern California, according to a report just issued locally.

Thousands of motorists are signing pledges to drive safely, and in order to prove that they mean what they say they are mounting the green and white windshield stickers on their cars. Word received by the club's safety bureau from the east indicates that the system started here will be taken up nationally.

These stickers and pledges can be obtained at any club county office—have you applied for yours yet, Mr. Motorist?

It is up to the drivers of automobiles themselves to cut down the appalling list of fatalities in the southern counties, say club officials, and to that end every driver is being given an opportunity to enlist in the movement now!

The interest which educational circles hold of the auto activities of Southern California was evidenced at the laying of the corner-stone of the new $490,000 high school at Santa Maria, in the southern part of the state.

When the corner-stone was laid, touring literature of all kinds was put within its recesses. If ever it is opened in future ages, when excavations are being conducted on the buildings of the present era, the archeologists of another time will find that the "open road" figured prominently in the activities of today.

In the cornerstone are copies of the latest road report issued by the Automobile Club of Southern California, auto catalogues, and a copy of Touring Topics, the Club's official magazine. Can you beat that?

Business Good, Says Local Overland Agent

"Mr. Smith, have you any news for the paper this morning?" was the question asked G. T. Smith, of the local Overland agency, 228 South Brand boulevard, and his answer was:

"I have so much of it that I haven't time to give it to you. Come back later and I will fix you up."

And, as he hustled out of the front door and mounted a graceful Willys-Knight, he called back over his shoulder and said: "Tell them business is good."

The same smiling, contented expression can be found on any part of the automobile row, however, some of them are more sincere than others, but the expression on Mr. Smith's face this morning was one of content and confidence in what he is selling.

To show reason for these smiles, L. J. McCracken, of the Willys-Overland Pacific Company, states that no shipments will be made from Toledo, O., during the entire month of April owing to the heavy demand which has been in progress for the past several weeks. The factory has more orders than they can possibly fill in the next thirty days, he continues. However, the main office on the west coast is fortunately in a position to supply its branch dealers with practically all models.

Maryland Garage Is In Charge of Expert

The fireproof building at 125 North Maryland avenue has been remodeled by L. C. Drake at which place he is now conducting a garage and repair shop, under the name of Maryland Storage Garage.

Mr. Drake, who spent about three years in the Overland, Buick and Oldsmobile factories back east and for the past two years has been connected with the Ford agency of Los Angeles, is reputed to be a very good automobile man. He stated that his repair men in the shop are the best obtainable and are all turning out work on which there is no come back. There is also a battery service station run in connection with the garage, which is convenient for the customers, Mr. Drake points out.

Ambition--Aided by Confidence and Determination-- Will Result in Home Ownership.

Everyone admires a man who says: "It can be done," and then by his own efforts makes it a realization. Too many of us travel the road of least resistance, fearing to undertake anything that is going to call for obligations, special efforts or sacrifices, while, as a matter of fact, everyone who has made good or who has attained success has fought for it.

There is no such thing as "It can't be done." Home Ownership is daily being made a reality by others and with home owning desires inborn in each and everyone of us, and all around us evidences of determination—families who are comfortably housed in homes of their own—with no more ability or larger earnings than you, are object lessons that reflect our own inability in making the start.

Real staple wealth is represented only in happiness and contentment, the foundation of which is real estate, on which to build a home you can call your own. And home ownership can only be acquired by those with stickability and perseverance. "The postage stamp offers an object lesson—it sticks to one thing until it gets there. Sometimes it encounters difficulties but eventually its usefulness is proven by its stick-to-it-ness."

You cannot refer to a really successful man who has not acquired his real wealth by means of constant reliable efforts, and by far the majority of them started at the very bottom, and won their present proud position by applying their first saving to a lot on which to erect a home.

Buy a lot today—for it is the safest, most permanent, conservative investment you can make and even though your financial condition permits of only a small payment, it will represent a start which will eventually deliver to you the greatest amount of returns in both money and happiness that you can make. If you have a lot or have the ready means to acquire one, then start at once to improve it. The satisfaction and contentment of home ownership and the safe and sure returns will be your just reward.

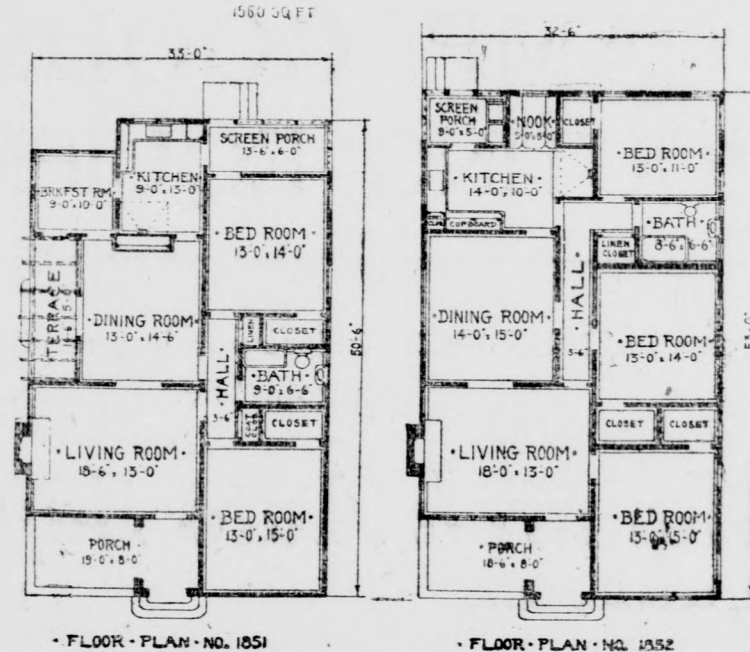

A key to a home of your own awaits your determination to apply for one.

Aren't you about ready to undertake this, the greatest of earthly possessions?

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR, NEW YORK Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

TUNING

If a pendulum is struck a light blow at the end of a swing in one given direction the height of the swings in each direction is maximum for the strength of the applied force and the air friction resistance present. It is the length of the cord which supports the weight that determines the natural frequency of the swings (number of times it makes a complete swing each second). When the force is applied to the weight in this regular manner it is applied once for each swing, and the frequency of application equals the frequency of swings. The two frequencies being equal, the force is applied in step or "in tune" with the natural frequency of the pendulum system. Altering the length of the supporting cord alters the natural frequency of swing, and by adjusting it so that this natural frequency is the same as that of the applied force is called "tuning" the system to resonance.

The electrical length of an electrical circuit is varied by alternating its capacity and inductance—that is, by altering the capacity of a condenser and the inductance of a coil, for example. The natural frequency of alternating current which will be created in such a circuit when struck an electrical blow then depends upon its capacity and inductance. If the electrical blows are struck at a certain rate or frequency the circuit may be so adjusted as to have a natural frequency in tune with the applied force. The electrical force applied is, of course, the electromotive force furnished by a generator, for example. When this condition of resonance prevails, the current alternating in the circuit will be maximum for the strength of applied electromotive force and actual ohmic resistance. There will be no effective resistance, due to reactance, because when resonance occurs the capacitive reactance equals the effect of the inductive reactance. The two reactances having opposite effects in a circuit the net reactance is then zero.

In any circuit, therefore, if an alternating electromotive force is applied, the resulting current will be maximum, when the natural frequency of the circuit is the same as the frequency of the alternating E. M. F. That is, when the two are in resonance. The actual value of the current, then, depends only upon actual resistance and applied E. M. F., and reactance or effective resistance is nil. In order to obtain this condition it is only necessary to alter the capacity of the condenser or the inductance of the coil, bearing in mind that the natural circuit frequency increases with a decrease of either or both, and vice versa. Inductive reactance increases with an increase of inductance, and vice versa, while capacitive reactance decreases with an increase of capacity, and vice versa. As has been said, when the capacity and inductance are so adjusted that the natural frequency of the circuit is in resonance with the frequency of applied E. M. F., these reactances are equal and their effects cancel each other.

RADIO DEBATES PLANNED

AN EFFICIENT TWO-STAGE AMPLIFIER

A two-stage audio-frequency amplifier is almost a necessity these days, when everyone wants to listen to the radiophone concerts without wearing ear pieces. There are many types and makes upon the market, almost all of which are good. There has recently come upon the market a type which has some interesting features and appears to be very efficient.

The panel is made of a plate of insulating phenol composition. It is black in color and is laminated. Instead of the usual wooden cabinet, a heavy sheet brass cabinet is used, which has securely welded corners. This provides electrical shielding of the interior circuits and makes the cabinet practically dustproof. The finish of the metal cabinet is black satin enamel, which makes a very pleasing appearance. Sheet brass partitions inside the cabinet separate the two stages from each other and provide a shield between them. This eliminates any noises which may occur because of interaction of one circuit with another. It seems to have been the particular object of the makers to eliminate all possibility of energy feedback from the second to the first stage. In this it appears they have succeeded.

A separate filament rheostat controls the filament current of each of the amplifier tubes. This is advisable because tubes vary somewhat in their characteristics. There are two automatic filament control jacks, one marked "First stage" and one "Second stage." When the phone plug is inserted into the first stage the first lamp is lighted, but the second is not until the plug is put in the second jack. Both lamps are then lighted and the headphones are connected in the plate circuit of the second stage. This makes it possible to shift from one stage to another without changing the filament rheostat adjustments.

All controls are plainly marked in a manner that adds to the appearance of the panel. Two windows, which are screened allow each of the tubes to be seen without removing the panel from the cabinet.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: What is it that makes a number of these wireless telephones, especially those in some of the business establishments, sound squeaky at times?—L. M., Glendale.

Answer: Many different items enter into the cause for the squeaks that you refer to. First, bear in mind that radiophones are only in their infancy, and the receiver that you might have heard was possibly not an up-to-date machine. A machine very possibly that did not have the latest attachments that are for the purpose of overcoming the distortion of the voice that will appear in a poorly constructed speaker. The lack of a good aerial, the lack of a real good tuning coil, and many more just such things would all have a bearing on it. With the never ending improvements that are constantly appearing on the market as relating to radio, you may be absolutely assured that there is no cause for worry about a receiver that may give out distorted noises, especially one that may be set up hurriedly simply as a means to attract an advertisement.

Question: What properties are contained in Bakelite that make it so essential in a receiving set?—B. H., Eagle Rock.

Answer: Bakelite is simply the trade name for a very non-conductive material; there are several others on the market. It is necessary that the material in the panel be as near moisture proof as possible, and Bakelite and similar products have that property. It is interesting to know that during the war the government took over the entire output of these factories and they were turning it out in enormous quantities for Uncle Sam, but right now these same factories are turning out more of this product than they did during the war, and can not come anywhere near catching up with their back orders.

Question: Why is it that head receivers wound with german silver are not supposed to be as good as those wound with copper wire?—B. F. H., Glendale.

Answer: To wind a head receiver for high resistance that becomes necessary for use in wireless, it is required that many turns of fine copper wire be used to produce a head phone that, we will say for example, is 3000 ohms resistance. Now, this same resistance can be reached by winding german silver wire with only a fraction of the turns that are necessary with copper wire, and while a few turns of german silver wire will do the trick as far as the proper resistance is concerned, it does not last for any length of time when they are put to use, and can not be compared with a head phone wound with copper wire.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

It is only five years ago that swimming became a recognized intercollegiate sport on the Pacific coast. In that time remarkable headway has been made, and this year for the first time the universities in Oregon and Washington have taken seriously to aquatic sports of the national variety.

The Universities of California and Stanford have held dual meets since 1917, officially recognized, though in 1916 a meet was also held which California won 41 to 27. Including this 1916 meet Stanford has won four meets and the Californians two. It was in 1918 that Ernest Brandstein went to Stanford as coach and that year his team lost to California 45 to 23. Stanford again lost in 1919, but with only a margin of six points and since that date the Stanford team has each year defeated its rivals including the meet last week. Since Brandstein's tenure of office as coach at Stanford the caliber of swimming has steadily improved at Stanford and it is due to the coaching of this man that this country and Stanford owes its victory through Clarence Pingston in the Olympic games diving events at Antwerp in 1920. Not satisfied with these honors Brandstein has continued in his efforts to produce diving champions as well as promote more general interest in all forms of swimming. The result has been that last week in the National fancy high diving championship held at San Francisco another diver from this college dethroned the world champion, Pingston. The new champion is Al White and he followed up his national title successes by beating the best divers California could muster in the intercollegiate meet just one week after his national success.

Swimming at California shows that the college has some remarkable material which needs just that touch of expert coaching that Stanford now has. The recent dual meet showed that the Stanford swimmers were better from the standpoint of technique and finesse than their opponents. This was noticeable in many little ways. The making of turns, the get away at the start, the actual hitting the water in the starting dive, the closer attention given to "form" as shown in the strokes of the opposing men and in other ways the Stanford men showed superiority over their California rivals. California has material, brilliant material, but it is the lack of these essential points that stood out most prominently in the recent meet and which with coaching such as the Stanford men get means the difference between victory and defeat.

That swimming has improved in the coast colleges is best exemplified by the fact that in the California and

Stanford dual meet every record, with the exception of the plunge, for distance was broken. Robertson of California took 4-5 of a second off the fifty yards and the same man took four seconds off the hundred. Austin of Stanford took 6-1-5 seconds off the 220 which had stood since 1917 and Fletcher, Stanford, took 4-4-5 off the 100 breast stroke, but the largest reduction was 10-1-5 off the back stroke by De Groot of Stanford.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK—A certain sports authority threatens or promises, as the case may be, to begin today what he is pleased to term an expose of amateur athletics. It is presumed that he means track and field activities generally and Amateur Athletic Union specifically.

Just how far this man can or will go with the matter remains to be seen, but if he knows anything at all, he knows enough.

The definition "amateur" as applied to a track and field athlete of any prominence at all is a rare, good joke.

All too few of them are real, no-metal-can-touch-me amateurs and the majority of these have reached that sad estate only because their ability is negligible. A consistent amateur is of slight consequence to the promoters of athletic meets; therefore, he retains his amateur status with neither difficulty nor credit to himself.

But what of the champion whose appearance is believed will make a set of games a financial and competitive success? Often he is brought on from a distant city, forsaking for the moment whatever line of business he happens to be following for the ostensible pleasure of running around a track.

If you have a kindly faith in human nature, that theory will sound quite sensible to you. If not, you may exercise the privilege of drawing your own conclusions. The ugly term "appearance money" is used from time to time in connection with this type of athletic nomad, who seems to be foot loose and fancy free in the matter of indulging his taste for competition.

True enough, it is only occasional-

To a great majority of the present day baseball fans the name of "Pop" Adrian C. Anson, who died recently in Chicago, means nothing, or at most, only a vague something out of the dim past they have heard about. To the baseball enthusiast who has reached the half century mark Anson was all that Ruth, Ty Cobb, or any of the stars of the first magnitude means to the present generation of baseball followers. Anson did much to place the national game on a high plane and to him the present day fans owe no little debt for the game as it has been handed down to them today.

Von Elm, the Utah golfer, has made a distinctly favorable impression with the critics of the Pacific coast in his play in the southern California amateur championships. Hay Chapman, a coast authority on the game, has this to say about young Von Elm. "The Salt Lake player's style is distinctly that of a professional, and the only coast player who has a chance to beat him is Jack Neville, whose game is distinctly that of an amateur. There is a psychological as well as a physical difference in the two attitudes."

At Golden Gate Park, on whose courts in San Francisco they learned the game, four of California's best tennis players have been staging a set of visual demonstration of how the game ought to be played. The four stars who thus are giving their time to showing the young idea how to shoot are William Johnston, former national singles champion, and Davis cup player; Clarence (Peck) Griffin, who, with Johnston, formerly held the national doubles title; John Strachan, former national clay court champion, and Roland Roberts, Pacific coast singles champion.

Cornell's invitation to Stanford university's track team to compete in a dual meet and to do their training at Ithaca for the intercollegiate meet has made a fine impression at the coast institution. The invitation was regretfully declined for the reason that the meet will be held at a time when the boys can least afford to spend their time away from their studies. As a result, the Stanford men will go into the meet with practically no training, other than what they get here, and with no attempt at acclimatization.

Beautiful Forest Lawn

"—Where Sleep Our Treasured Memories"

They Sleep—quietly, peacefully, dreamlessly, where the warm rays of the sun caress their beds, and the fragrance of flowers rises like incense—in beautiful Forest Lawn.

There is something at once comforting and sustaining, beautiful and sublime, that is felt the moment you enter Forest Lawn. Great trees sway gently with the passing zephyrs, attractive shrubbery, and lovely flowers add to the loveliness. Throughout there is the unmistakable imprint of good taste and excellent care, a characteristic gaining for Forest Lawn the reputation of being one of the most beautiful burial parks in the country.

The naturally rolling surface of the grounds affords splendid natural drainage, and in its development a modern underground drainage has been provided, necessary in all scientifically planned cemeteries. Wide, graceful driveways are laid out in such manner that all lots are easy of access, and none are obscure. Perpetual care is given every lot, a substantial portion from the sale of every lot being set aside in a fund for this purpose. It is comforting to know that the last resting place of a loved one will never be neglected, that hands as considerate, as painstaking as your own could be, will keep the spot bright and beautiful forever.

By Dr. Otey

WHAT CAN BE DONE FOR FALLEN ARCHES—
FLAT FEET?

People are conscious of much suffering from fallen arches and many people suffer from weak arches who never suspect the source of their distress. Would I recommend wearing of arch supports? Yes, but not permanently. I would also recommend the wearing of splints in cases of broken bones, but only till the bones can be made to knit. Just so, arch supports should be worn only until osteopathic treatments have removed the cause of the weakening of the muscles and ligaments that shape the arch. Those muscles and ligaments depend for their TONE or degree of tension on good circulation and also on nerve currents that come to them from the nerve centers in the lower part of the spine.

The treatment for fallen arches or weak arches that have not yet fallen includes adjustment of spinal structures in the region containing the nerve centers controlling the feet as well as manipulation and adjustment of the arch and the fitting of temporary arch supports.

The treatment includes also manipulation of the structures around the hip and elsewhere along the blood vessels to and from the feet. It is as useless to simply tinker with the structures of the feet as to tinker with your phone when the cause for its refusing to work is in the batteries or the connections in the central office.

There is a difference in relief and cure. Arch supports may give relief. If you want a cure phone us for appointment.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. H. W. MYERS

The funeral services of Mrs. H. W. Myers of 1293 South Central avenue were held in the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn cemetery, at 2 p. m. Thursday, April 20. Many exquisite flowers, for which she cared so much, were sent in loving tribute by her friends and neighbors. Rev. O. F. Kider chose the resurrection theme and spoke of Mrs. Myers as a beautiful example of the Christian life. Two favorite old hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," were sung by Mrs. Chas. M. Retts. A number of friends from out of town were present, including Mrs. Ann Myers Digby, a childhood friend and schoolmate of Mrs. Myers.

Coming to Glendale in 1905 Mr. and Mrs. Myers married many years to enjoy the fruits and flowers of their home, she reaching the age of nearly 85 years and he survives in his 90th year. Sarah Jane Duncan, the first child of Washington and Eliza (Gibson) Duncan was born on a pioneer farm near Bucyrus, Ohio, where she spent her girlhood. She taught several terms of school and during the trying years of the Civil War she took an active part in the work of the Sanitary commission. She suffered the loss of two brothers, several relatives and many friends in the country's cause and her thoughtful mind was much deepened by the experience.

At an early age she accepted Christ as her Savior and united with the Presbyterian church, of which she remained an active member, teaching in the Sunday school for a number of years and deeply interested in the work of the Missionary society. Mrs. Myers was calm and gentle, but firm in the things she believed to be right. She was united in marriage to Henry W. Myers June 7, 1864, and soon removed to Iowa, where Mr. Myers was superintendent of the city school of Des Moines and Creston and later of Hastings, Nebraska. Besides her aged husband she leaves two daughters, Miss Ida D. Myers and Miss Harriet T. Myers, well known in Glendale, one sister, Mrs. Celia E. Canary residing in Bowling Green, Ohio, and two brothers, H. W. Duncan of Los Angeles and Dr. A. M. Duncan of this city.

STATUARY ARRIVING ENTERTAINMENT AT FOR ART DISPLAY AT C. OF C. INTERMEDIATE IS BIG SUCCESS

World-Famed Artists to Make Exhibits Here; Plans for Musical Features

Literally tons of statuary arrived this morning at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce auditorium for the art show which opens here next Tuesday afternoon. More than a score of world-famed artists who now are residents of southern California are among the exhibitors under the auspices of the Sculptors' Guild. Such names as Frank C. Walmsey, Romanelli, Greenfield, and others equally well known, were signed to the various works which for a day or two are in an informal jumble at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters. Some most striking studies are among the collection while almost any of the exhibitors' work is worth going far to see.

While the sculpture forms the backbone of the art show, said to be the first civic event of its kind on the side of the largest cities, Bert Short of the California Academy of Music is arranging a wonderful program of mental, vocal and dancing numbers for each evening of the five-day event.

Several world-famed artists have promised to lend their talent while clever students will be given the opportunity of exhibiting their ability. Only in a center such as Glendale, so strategically located to Los Angeles, is it possible to stage anything of similar importance, it is confidently said.

Display by Local Man

Another wonderful feature of this show will be the exhibit of F. Grayson Sayre's paintings. This local painter will hang thirty-six canvases. The list includes: Mojave Desert, The Desert Gateway, Afternoon Glow, Peaceful Valley, Mountain Glory, Rock Ribbed and Ancient, Coachella Valley, Sheltering Arms, Jackrabbit Trail, Piute Trail, Near La Crescenta, Gil Mountains, Roadside Trees, Windswept Sand, Evening Light, Valley of Gold, Our Camp, Lowering Mountains, Eagle Range, Rugged Hills, Mountain Showers, Sweeping Range, Edge of the Desert, Arid Range, Desert Lure, California Trees, Arizona Evening, Cloud Drift, Rugged Slopes, The Lone Rider, The Old Homestead, Mountain Haze, Road in Griffith Park, Favorite Nook and Desert Solitude.

Victorious Life Week To Be Held in City

"Local people who have been attending the Victorious Life Conferences, which have been held in different cities in Southern California for the past few years, will be glad to know that this most inspiring and helpful gathering will be held here in Glendale from May 7 to 14 inclusive," announced Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the Presbyterian church, this morning.

"Robert C. McQuilkin of Philadelphia, who has just returned from a three months' trip to Central America, will tell of some of the conditions in that nearest of the 'uttermost parts of the earth.' Dr. A. J. Ramsey, whose home is in Pasadena, will also be one of the conference speakers.

"One of the special features of this conference is the practical way in which Mr. McQuilkin handles different individual problems by answering in the afternoon meetings questions which may be written and handed to him during the conference.

"This conference is interdenominational and the public is invited. All the meetings will be held in the Glendale Presbyterian church, corner Broadway and Cedar. Afternoon addresses at 3 and 4 o'clock, again in the evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Gladys Sharpe Directs Children In Program of Unusual Excellence

At Intermediate school last night was again demonstrated the well-known fact that parents keenly enjoy the privilege of seeing and hearing their own and their friends' children play their parts in drama, comedy or musical entertainment. The benefit given by the children of the school for the P. T. A. was an unqualified success from beginning to end. The auditorium was filled with the delighted friends of the boys and girls who played their parts most successfully. In the farce, "Woman's Rights," which was given by pupils trained by Miss Payne, Leonard Ertel as the henpecked husband won the sympathy and then in the admiration of every man there as he wearily suffered and later boldly defied the domineering suffragette wife as played by Elizabeth McGee, who became the most reasonable of spouses when convinced of the error of her ways by her husband, ably seconded by Raymond Ratcliffe, and the census taker, played by Benny Hogue.

The pupils of Miss Tyler and Miss Grider sang "America" and "Holy Night" and gave a number of recitations all in Spanish, and all well given, to the pleasure of their admiring friends.

Excellent Program

This was followed by a whistling solo, "Morning," from the Peer Gynt suite, Grieg, by Helen White in her own inimitable way. She also gave another most pleasing solo between acts I and II of the Cinderella play, while Preston Hanning delighted every one with his song "Tuck Me to Sleep in My Old 'Tucky Home," between acts II and III of the play.

Cinderella players were trained by Miss Gladys Sharpe, assisted by her sister, Miss Margaret Sharpe, who designed the costumes and stage effects, all of which were carried out most effectively.

In the play itself, all spoke distinctly and surprised even their most hopeful admirers in the way in which they became, for the time being, the ones they were picturing. Miss Dorothy Forbes charmed as Cinderella, Catherine Browne and Edith Elliott as the proud sisters couldn't have been more haughty; Julia Pelly was the daintiest of fairy godmothers; Melville Walker, Ennis Olmstead, Maurice Telle and Howard Richardson as couriers exactly fitted their parts; Howard Smith as herald, and Howard Smith as the court fool were two of the hits of the evening; Dorothy Allen and Marjorie Faulkner were beautiful court ladies; William Andree and Richard Ambrosch were brave as the palace guards, Carrol Toll a most successful attendant to the princess, Donald Murray, who was all that could be asked of a Prince Charming; Bruce Harshberger as the king and Winifred Hunt as the queen, acted as though born to the purple, and Wilma Kulp, Genevieve Houseman, Janet West and Virginia Homer were the dearest of little pages.

The audience was both surprised and pleased at the dramatic ability shown by all who took part and expressed their appreciation of both teachers and pupils who put on the entertainment. The proceeds were slightly over $100.

The program was given by the children of the school under the direction of Miss Gladys Sharpe, and included the following numbers:

Harmony again prevails in the industrial city of the San Fernando valley, according to E. F. Sanders of Glendale, who was among the representatives of other cities in attendance. He responded to a call for a speech. The governor made extensive remarks on the necessity for a Chamber of Commerce in any rapidly growing community and he also dwelt lightly on the issues of the day, explaining his attitude.

Send River in Town to Stop Many Fires

ATHENS, April 22.—A river has been diverted through Monastir where the great munitions explosion occurred Tuesday, checking the fires and small explosions that have been going on there, according to word reaching Athens today.

The rescue work is now going forward rapidly. While great numbers were badly injured, the death list will not run as high as first reports had it. Advice today said that the total dead probably would not exceed 500.

FLORAL PIECE CAUSES SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Suits were filed in justice court against Henry Lehman by Albert O. Stein, florist, to collect $150 for a floral piece in memory of Virginia Rappe, for whose death Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle was tried for manslaughter. Stein alleges he was directed to prepare the floral piece by Henry Lehman, motion picture director and fiance of Miss Rappe, who was then in New York. Stein says his bill has never been paid.

LANTERN FESTIVAL

FEATURE CHINESE CELEBRATION

Gods Are Given Big Welcome Back From Vacation by Songs and Parades

Written for International News Service By EDNA LEE BOOKER
 SHANGHAI—New Orleans may have its Mardi Gras, St. Louis its Villed Prophet Parade, Paris its Bastille Day, Dallas its State Fair, but Shanghai has its Lantern Festival.

Pink rabbits—the kind that grow only in dreams, story books and China—exquisite lotus blossoms, red fish, with great staring eyes; yellow dragons, with long, undulating bodies, and any number of other flowers, fish and animals are invading the Chinese city and the settlement and giving a bright note of color and romance to gray, rainy Shanghai.

The annual Lantern Festival and Feast of the Lanterns has just been celebrated in China.

In the Chinese homes the older boys made the lanterns of paper, silk, cloth and bamboo for their little brothers and sisters to carry on Lantern Day.

Hold Many Superstitions
 There are many superstitions and customs regarding the Lantern Festival, which, by the way, is one of the most spectacular of the many Chinese religious celebrations.

The Feast of the Lanterns dates back some two thousand years to the Han dynasty and was originally a ceremonial worship held during the first full moon of the new year to bring the New Year's celebrations officially to a close.

Chinese also declare that during the Chinese New Year all the gods have been off to heaven on a vacation and that on their return to the earth the people give them a cordial welcome by shooting off firecrackers, holding lantern processions, singing theatricals and employing the sing-song boys to clang their cymbals and blow their flutes in the temples and private gardens.

Picturesque Processions
 In the interior cities of China and even in Shanghai picturesque lantern processions are held. Hundreds of boys, in gorgeously embroidered coats, carrying the lighted flowers, birds and animals, wind their way through the narrow, dark, little streets crowded with laughing, chatting Chinese, all "out for a good time."

The feature of a procession is the great, wriggling, undulating dragon, from thirty to forty feet in length, which is carried on the shoulders of boys whose heads are hidden in the brilliantly illuminated facsimile body of the great monster.

Bands of Chinese, costumed in reds and greens, richly embroidered and with elaborate headaddresses, playing the weird, haunting music of the Orient, are features of the procession.

Illuminated Animals
 Besides the great flower lanterns, which are very beautiful, are trick animals, performing horses, water buffaloes, drawing water, various gods such as one sees in the temples and illuminated busts of heroes of China and even of America.

The candle-ends from the dragons are sought by childless women, eager for souvenirs.

Lanterns are hung on the pagodas, which reach toward the sky like great pine trees, and when lighted the pagodas give the effect at a distance, of giant Christmas trees. In the temples special prayers are offered by the Taoists, and theatricals lasting three days are held in many Buddhist temples.

Tourists who came to China during the Chinese New Year celebrations had a glimpse into the picturesque story book life of the ancient Orient, which is unchanged by foreign influence.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL AT W. H. DOTSON HOME FRIDAY

Program Is Pleasing and Is Heard by Members of the P.-T. A. Executives

A very enjoyable musical recital was given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Dotson, 333 West Harvard street, by her daughters, Catherine Dotson and Margaret Helen Dotson, pupils of Kathryn Montreville Cooke, assisted by Thomas James Hendon, Virginia Catherine Tilley, Gertrude Wasseman and Carmen Estelle Thomas.

The guests included the members of the executive board of the Parent-Teacher Federation, as well as the presidents and juvenile court chairmen of the various associations. Mrs. Dotson is juvenile court chairman of the Glendale federation.

The program given included the following numbers: "Elfin Dance" (Richards), by Margaret Helen Dotson; "Frightening" (Schumann), by Catherine Dotson; "Selections" (Low), by Thomas Hendon; "The Arrival" (Richards), by Virginia Tilley; "Hush-a-Bye Baby" (Martin) and "Selection" (Low), by Gertrude Wasseman; "Slumber Song" (Gurlitt), played by Carmen Estelle Thomas and later transposed in C and G major by Catherine Dotson; "Thistle Down's Party" (Bugbee), "Merry Bob-o-link" (Krogman), transposed in G and D major, and "Spinning Song" (Ellenreich), by Margaret Dotson; "Slumber Song" (Schumann) and "Fantasie in D Minor" (Mozart), by Catherine Dotson.

The closing number was a group of two duets, "Hunting Song" (Gurlitt) and "Waltz" (Gurlitt), by Margaret Helen Dotson and Catherine Dotson, in which they displayed unusual interpretation and talent. The second piano used was furnished by the Loomis-Shuck Music company.

At the close of the program Miss Cooke gave a short talk on "Music in Children." Mrs. John Robert White, president of the Glendale federation of P.-T. A., expressed appreciation for the program and urged that children with talent be given the opportunity of developing it. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, spoke along a similar line, and expressed regret that oftentimes the children who are endowed with the talent and also of the appreciation for music do not have the opportunity of developing the talent or hearing the right kind of music.

At the close of the afternoon refreshments of ice cream and cakes were served. Those present included Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. R. Graham, Mrs. H. Westphal, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, Mrs. William Alexander, Mrs. C. L. Peckham, Mrs. Tilley, Mrs. C. A. Redmond, Miss Corinne Orff, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dotson.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Tragedy of Carelessness
Bathing Suits Will be Worn
Somebody's Party Spoiled
Information on Automobiles

By Gil A. Cowan

AN unusual and terrible tragedy overcame the little town of Downey yesterday.

The carelessness of men at a gasoline service station, the inquisitiveness of a curious public, the lack of knowledge or appreciation of the explosive liquid—all were factors in the death of several and serious injury of others.

However, haven't you wondered oftentimes that so few gasoline trucks catch fire. It seems remarkable that a volatile substance, expanding under the glare of the sun, fired by a spark, can be handled with apparent safety.

Yet when an accident, such as occurred at Downey, happens along, there is new awe, more care, greater precautions taken by those who might be responsible for a recurrence.

Well, well! The kids can't enjoy the old swimmin' hole, municipally conducted, like their dads did down on the farm by the willow brook.

On motion of Councilman A. H. Lapham, the city council has voted to spend $800 on bathing suits. In view of the economy practiced by the city administration, it is to be presumed that the suits will be like a good speech. That is, long enough to cover the necessary points of the subject and short enough to be interesting.

However, it is a good investment for suits must be worn and the city will rent them at a nominal fee. However, it won't take many "rents" to make the suits unusable.

The Paris newspapers continue to comment in a warlike tone. The French general staff is making plans to occupy the Ruhr district alone if the British are unwilling to participate, according to L'Oeuvre.

While Lloyd George says the Geneva conference will continue, the indications are that the League of Nations idea doesn't quite meet the popular demand of its participating nations. Russia, especially, seems to be a disturbing influence. There's always somebody ready to spoil the party, but it keeps a lot of parties from spoiling themselves.

Just for instance, we had an announcement yesterday that Glendale Mayor Spencer Robinson who said it would have to be postponed a week. Couldn't get the wagons and white wings ready for the fray, don't you know.

Then this morning comes the announcement that the mayor didn't know what he was talking about and that clean up week is going to be April 24 to 29 inclusive, as first scheduled. So there you are!

Glendale will be honored next week with one of the foremost arrays of art ever seen in a city of its size. The Sculptors' guild of southern California makes it possible through organization while the Chamber of Commerce provides the place and brings it to public attention. Call your friends' attention to this wonderful art show.

There is a whole lot of interesting information in the Automobile Section today. It is carefully prepared with the idea of rendering a real service to the owner or prospective purchaser of a motorcar.

Automobile, motion picture and radio news today are the three big attractions outside of regular features and current events. You read about automobiles because you long for a car, or a better car, or improvements for that car.

In both the advertising and news columns you obtain the desired information.

E. D. Hamlin Given Surprise on Birthday

A birthday surprise was given to E. D. Hamlin, 315 North Louise, last night, arrangements for which were made by Mrs. Hamlin and friends. When Mr. Hamlin arrived home after a visit to the dentist, about a dozen guests caught his attention and then he realized that it was his birthday. Cards were played and all present had a very enjoyable time.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Landon of Los Angeles, Miss Jessie Bouton, who is visiting Mrs. Hamlin at present, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hepburn, Joseph Psenner and Arthur Hofficker.

A beautiful birthday cake with many candles on it and presents including a silver cigarette case were presented to Mr. Hamlin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder Bridge Club Hostess

Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder was hostess yesterday to the members of the Foster Bridge club at the home of Mrs. S. B. Morse, 143 South Everett street. Decorations of yellow marigolds, poppies, roses and lilies were used throughout the house.

The members present included Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. A. H. Lapham, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. Mabel Rudy, Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder and Mrs. S. B. Morse. Guests present included Mrs. Cora Jones, Mrs. F. J. Rogers, Mrs. Frank George, Mrs. Charles Carroll and Mrs. Charles Meadows.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream further carried out the color scheme of yellow. Guest prize was awarded to Mrs. F. J. Rogers and club prize to Mrs. Morse.

INVISIBLE RULERS REAL MENACE TO L. A., ASSERTED

Col. James W. Everington, In
Talk to Legion, Tells of

The first thing that we can do as an improvement is, first, let all of us register, and, secondly, let's stage a campaign for everybody else to register. The principal thing which the local Post of the American Legion can do for the good of Glendale is that of urging all of our citizens to register and become eligible to vote, and if this is done we secure a 90 per cent registration for 1922 instead of one of 40 per cent.

Business Transacted
Of the business transactions which took place at the meeting a committee consisting of Dwight Stephenson, Dr. Nicolas and Col. Everington was appointed to draft a resolution to be published in both the Glendale and Los Angeles newspapers, condemning an article recently published through the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles. The article, which was written by J. A. Graves, president of the firm, was read to the Legionnaires from the monthly "Financial Letter," published on April 15. The parts of the article which were taken exception to by the Post members referred to the Soldiers' Compensation bill, which is now up before congress and to ex-service men as a whole "in a most unbecoming manner."

Plans were formulated for the staging of an entertainment and dance by the Post in the near future. Upon the resignation of A. H. Jones as chairman of the article which were taken exception to by the Post members referred to the Soldiers' Compensation bill, which is now up before congress and to ex-service men as a whole "in a most unbecoming manner."

Prior to adjournment it was announced that initiation will take place at next week's meeting. A committee on refreshments for this meeting was appointed to consist of the following members: Joe Pucero, Gerald Delgado, Ed Moniot and Julian Moniot.

Club Section Dance Card Party Is Success

The Sport Dance and card party given last night at the Odd Fellows' hall at Orange and Broadway by the members of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, of which Mrs. A. H. Montgomery is curator, for the benefit of the clubhouse fund, was a most successful and jolly social affair with over 150 couples in attendance. The hall had been decorated for the occasion with streamers of green and yellow crepe paper and bouquets of marigolds.

Decorations suggestive of golf, tennis, swimming, etc., carried out the sport motif on the rally cards. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. J. L. Flint, Mrs. Clader, Mrs. L. Twining, Miss Andrew and Miss Annie MacIntyre, Dr. J. L. Flint, Dr. P. E. Zeiss, H. N. McMullen and Don Packer. Prizes at "500" were awarded to Mrs. T. D. Watson, Mrs. Homer Lockwood, Mrs. S. C. Packer, Mrs. L. P. Abell and Mrs. L. Aicholz, J. H. Hearnshaw, E. R. Swearingen, John Roman and William Ward. The prizes had been donated for the occasion by Mrs. P. E. Webb, Mrs. A. J. Lyons, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Chester Kling, Mrs. Bert Ward, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. E. Halstead, Mrs. J. H. Hearnshaw, the Literary Section, Mrs. Frank McCann, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Sr., Mrs. F. S. Card, Mrs. R. C. Horner and Mrs. C. Dudley.

During the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the members of the literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, under the direction of Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, curator. Music for dancing was furnished by the Gaiety Four orchestra.

The committees in charge of the dance and card party included the following: Door committee, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. E. Halstead and Mrs. Williams; reception committee, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Whiting, Dr. and Mrs. Colin Cable, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Sr. and Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ward and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery; card rooms, Mrs. Chester Kling, Mrs. E. L. Young and Mrs. E. W. Kingsley; check room, Mrs. Homer Lockwood, Mrs. F. S. Card and Mrs. P. E. Webb; punch bowl, Mrs. William Hunter and Mrs. O. E. Von Oven.

Handball Tourney Is Cutting Down Ranks

The handball tournament at the high school is narrowing down to just a few of the best players. The third round has been completed and from now on the competition will be severe. Coach Hayhurst expects the finals to be played next week. In an exciting match yesterday Paul Hutchinson defeated Waldo Yard by the score of 11-10 and 11-4. In the next round Paul will meet Don Cameron and as the two players are very evenly matched, this game should be a hot one.

The bald eagle has long been looked upon as the symbol of power.
